Empowering Citizens: Sensitization of students and employees of the institution to the constitution obligations: values, rights, duties and responsibilities

The seminar began with a lamp-lighting ceremony, followed by an inaugural address by Dr. Lokeshwar Singh Jodhana, Registrar of Malwanchal University. The event provided valuable insights into the modernized justice system, covering topics such as e-FIR, online trials, and strengthened witness protection measures.

DIG Mr. Nimish Agrawal delivered a comprehensive presentation on the new criminal laws, highlighting the key features and amendments introduced in the Criminal Law Act 2023. He explained that the new law aims to streamline the criminal justice system, making it more efficient and effective in delivering justice.

One of the significant amendments introduced in the new law is the provision for e-FIR, which allows citizens to file First Information Reports electronically. This provision is expected to reduce the time and effort required to file an FIR, making it more convenient for citizens to report crimes.

SP Ms Hitika Vasal elaborated on the provisions related to online trials, which enable courts to conduct trials remotely. This provision is expected to reduce delays in the justice system, making it more efficient and effective in delivering justice.

The new law also introduces strengthened witness protection measures, which aim to provide greater protection to witnesses and prevent intimidation and harassment. DIG Agrawal explained that these measures include provisions for witness anonymity, protection of witness identities, and measures to prevent re-victimization.

A question-and-answer session was held after the presentations, allowing participants to engage with the speakers and gain a deeper understanding of the new criminal law. The event was graced by the presence of the Honorable Chairman, Vice-Chancellor, and Registrar of the university, along with directors and Heads of Institutions (HOIs) from various constituent units.

To show appreciation for their contributions, tokens of gratitude were presented to the speakers. This seminar demonstrates Malwanchal University's commitment to fostering a community of well-informed and engaged citizens.
