Report: Role of Medical Investigations

Value-added course on 'Orientation to Laboratory Services' was conducted from 13th to 15th June 2024 at the Hospital Lecture Hall of Index Medical College, Hospital and Research Centre, Indore. The course was specifically designed for the first-year post-graduate students of the 2024 admission batch, aiming to provide them with essential knowledge and hands-on experience related to laboratory services in a hospital setting.

The three-day course comprised of a total of 16 hours of interactive sessions, with the objective of introducing the participants to various laboratory services, diagnostic techniques, and their clinical applications. This orientation was intended to familiarize students with the operational aspects of medical laboratories and their role in patient care and diagnostics.

The course featured a diverse range of expert speakers from the Departments of Pathology, Microbiology, and Biochemistry. These distinguished faculty members provided valuable insights into the practicalities of laboratory services, diagnostic methodologies, and the integration of laboratory results with clinical decision-making. The speakers included:

Dr. Sanjeev Narang, Professor and Head, Department of Pathology

Dr. V.K. Jain, Professor, Department of Pathology

Dr. Ramnath K, Professor and Head, Department of Microbiology

Dr. RomiShivastava, Professor, Department of Pathology

Dr. Sachin Mishra, Associate Professor, Department of Microbiology

Dr. Shreya Nigoskar, Professor and Head, Department of Biochemistry
